

Dear Parents,

We are hearing some fabulous presentations on our biography characters! I am impressed in the knowledge your child has acquired on their notable character. Biography Newspapers will be sent home by Tuesday. Thanks for your wonderful support with this project!

As we finish the year, I will introduce your child to several Tall Tale characters. I hope they will continue to read about the myriad of other characters that made this genre what it is, hyperbole at its finest! Check the public library!

Please pick up a special “diary” or “journal” for summer writing. Reflecting on one’s day or current books being read is a great way to practice summer writing. The wponline website will also be available.

Have a terrific weekend...a dry one I hope!
